Dear Supporter,

On March 22nd thru the 25th of 2012, the CUE Center for Missing Persons will host its 8th Annual National Round Table Conference, gathering people from across the nation. CUE will welcome families of the missing, various organizations, and advocates who network daily to help find missing persons, as well as private investigators, law officials, coroners, and search and rescue groups.

In a nutshell, the goal of this event is to offer elite training in an effort to improve services and resources that are so desperately needed by families suffering from the loss of a missing loved one. The four day event will focus on improving communication among agencies, learning about each other's services, exchanging ideas, and creating a unified support system for victims. The conference will also feature professional educators, training techniques, and introduce tools and new technologies useful in investigations of missing person cases.

Our conference has been a tremendous success in past years, all thanks to the generosity of supporters like you. Your sponsorship is needed to pull off another successful conference as we strive to improve the communication, networking, and methodology used to locate and recover missing persons. In addition to our request for monetary sponsorships, we are seeking items for other areas of the conference operation such as: prepared food items, raffle prizes, gift baskets/gift cards for door prizes, as well as office materials for our event. Please consider participating and join us in our quest to inform, educate, train, and assist families, advocacy organizations, law enforcement, and search and rescue professionals.

To learn more about CUE, visit our web site at <http://www.ncmissingpersons.org> or feel free to contact us directly, anytime at (910) 343-1131 or (910) 232-1687. When you're ready to join us in our quest to find missing persons, you will find detailed information below for sponsorships. Please return your packet as early as possible to ensure proper recognition in programs and conference materials.

Thank you in advance for your generosity. Your donation will help make this conference the best it can be, and ultimately, it will translate into improved services for missing persons and their families around the world.

Sincerely,

Monica Caison
CUE Founder

Round Table Conference Goals:

- Increase and improve professionalism and resources among missing persons organizations throughout the world by expanding the knowledge base of missing persons groups and leaders.

- Expand the knowledge base by facilitating a better understanding of various groups' capabilities and services. It will also foster a spirit of unity among missing persons groups and all who work in the field that will result in shared information and resources, which will ultimately benefit missing persons and their families.

- Help conference participants improve the utilization of existing resources to ensure continued success in finding the men, women and children missing from the U.S. and other nations around the world by:
 - Sharing a trained and professional view for solving cold cases and in the search of missing persons;
 - Understanding the resources available to be deployed when needed, what their capabilities are and how to obtain them;
 - Exploring the relevant positive and negative experiences of people who have experienced a missing loved one;
 - Creating new approaches to missing persons cases by building communication and support; and
 - Developing a high-level view of the modifications needed to our current resources and organizational community over the next five years.
